

Keynote Speaker: Howard Bedlin

Howard is the Vice President for Public Policy and Advocacy for the National Council on Aging (NCOA). For the past 30+ years, he has been at the forefront of national advocacy efforts to protect and strengthen the Medicare, Medicaid and Older Americans Act programs on behalf of older adult beneficiaries. Howard also leads NCOA's legislative and public policy efforts on economic security and various social determinants of health provided by the aging services network. He has played a leadership role in a variety of coalition efforts, including the Leadership Council of Aging Organizations, the Improving Medicare Markets Initiative, and the Disability and Aging Collaborative. Prior to joining NCOA 21 years ago, Howard was a Legislative Representative with AARP for ten years. Before that, he was the Deputy Director of Government Affairs for the National Association for Home Care and the Counsel for Public Policy at LeadingAge. He began his career at the Johns Hopkins Center for Hospital Finance and Management. Howard received his law degree and Masters in Public Policy Science from the University of Maryland.
